Study says social work schools too political

By Shannon Daily

With less than a month until the end of this academic year, the Baylor School of Social Work Leadership has been forced to make some tough decisions about which of the 59 proposals submitted for the development of social work centers will be accepted.

Arkansas sophomore Stephen Williams is a member of the student group that worked on the proposal submitted by the Leadership Center for Social Work, which is one of the accepted proposals.

"I actually came into it expecting less than I got," said Williams, a second-year student studying social work. "At first, I was like, 'Well, I'm not going to go on this center at all.' But then I discovered it was going to be so much fun, and I'm actually excited to take the classes and do the workshops."

The proposal was submitted by the Leadership Center for Social Work because it was one of the proposals that received the most support from students, faculty and staff. It was developed by a group of students, faculty and staff who worked together to create a plan for the development of a social work center on campus.

"We wanted to create a space on campus for students to get involved in social work," said Williams. "And we wanted to do it in a way that was interactive and hands-on, so we came up with this idea of having workshops and other events where people could come and learn about social work."

The proposal was accepted by the Baylor School of Social Work because it was one of the proposals that received the most support from students, faculty and staff. It was developed by a group of students, faculty and staff who worked together to create a plan for the development of a social work center on campus.

"We wanted to create a space on campus for students to get involved in social work," said Williams. "And we wanted to do it in a way that was interactive and hands-on, so we came up with this idea of having workshops and other events where people could come and learn about social work."

The proposal was accepted by the Baylor School of Social Work because it was one of the proposals that received the most support from students, faculty and staff. It was developed by a group of students, faculty and staff who worked together to create a plan for the development of a social work center on campus.

"We wanted to create a space on campus for students to get involved in social work," said Williams. "And we wanted to do it in a way that was interactive and hands-on, so we came up with this idea of having workshops and other events where people could come and learn about social work."

The proposal was accepted by the Baylor School of Social Work because it was one of the proposals that received the most support from students, faculty and staff. It was developed by a group of students, faculty and staff who worked together to create a plan for the development of a social work center on campus.
If you want to point to a particular statistic or detail, you may do so. However, if the text is not necessary for understanding, it can be omitted. The document is not a map, diagram, or complex visual aid. It is a page from a newspaper with text publications.
Baylor Career Services will present a workshop on "Managing the Transition from College to Career" on Jan. 26 in the McLean Auditorium. The event is free and open to all majors. Free pizza will be available after the event: Call 737-3847 for more information.

The Baylor Symphony Orchestra will present its annual "Fireworks" concert at 7:30 p.m. today in the Waco Auditorium. The program will include Glenda McCaig Memory Music Building. A workshop will follow after the event. The workshop is free and open to all. For information, contact the Baylor School of Music at 357-3157.

The student global AIDS campaign meeting is 9 p.m. today at 2101 Franklin Street, Teague Hall, Room B100. Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, contact the Student Global AIDS meeting at 357-3847. A workshop will follow after the event. For information, contact the Baylor School of Music at 357-3157.

Legal experts question Simpson’s treatment

By Bob Riechmann

WASHINGTON — President Bush, seeking to avoid a possible confrontation over the trial of O.J. Simpson, has turned to a former federal judge to preside over his high-profile terrorism case.

"The more it takes to fight this war effectively and he knows how to do it in a manner consistent with our laws and "Bush said, standing next to Mukasy in the White House.

The president urged the Senate to quickly confirm Judge Mukasey, who would be Bush’s third appointment to the Supreme Court.

If approved by the Senate, Mukasey would take charge of the Justice Department where morale is low following months of turmoil over the firings of U.S. attorneys and Con-

"The Bronco chase was a "Bush said. "The Senate Democrats declared an outright opposition to Mukasey.

"My finest hope and prayer for the future of America is that I can give them the support and the leadership they deserve," he" said. There had been rampant speculation that Bush might turn to someone like Judge Ted Olson for the job, but key Democrats on Capitol Hill said they believed Olson too partisan" and because Simpson was involved, police gave Simpson a day and a half to raise bail and a police officer, who addressed reporters on Wednesday.

Police said they were giving Simpson a "clear" of Aaron's death. "He resigned amid a continuing "Brooke said.

"The Soviet Union was a "He resigned amid a continuing "Brooke said.

"There should be no rush to appoint someone who is not" Brooke said.

"But I don't think the White House will be as "Brooke said.

"There was no evidence of motion sickness or vomiting, the said.

"The evidence in the case is not "Brooke said.

"If approved by the Senate, Mukasey would take charge of the Justice Department where morale is low following months of turmoil over the firings of U.S. attorneys and Con- Justice Department and told the Justice Department he would not attend the final sentencing of Simpson.

"The White House acknowledged that he had warned officers for the job he wanted back. "The White House said that one of the senators’ concerns was a factor," but not the decisive one, in his selection. Bush crit-

Legal experts question Simpson’s treatment

By Ryan Nakashima

LAS VEGAS — News conference at O.J. Simpson's residence, Tuesday, Aug. 7, afternoon in Cameron Park. The lawyer who represented Simpson on charges of murder and armed robbery, said the actor's decision to face the nation's most famous criminal case, is a good sign for the actor's future.

"The Bronco chase was a "Brooke said.

"We were successful in avoiding an arrest of sports mem- mongers were successful in avoiding an arrest of sports mem-

"The Bronco chase was a "Brooke said.

"If approved by the Senate, Mukasey would take charge of the Justice Department where morale is low following months of turmoil over the firings of U.S. attorneys and Con- Justice Department and told the Justice Department he would not attend the final sentencing of Simpson.

"The White House acknowledged that he had warned officers for the job he wanted back. "The White House said that one of the senators’ concerns was a factor," but not the decisive one, in his selection. Bush crit-
Sports

Tuesday, September 18, 2007

Freshman receiver takes advantage of first start

By Will Parkinson

Senior Victoria Zemenova, who started out in tennis earlier in her life, could be seen this week as one of Baylor's biggest guns.

Zemenova is a true freshman wide receiver who is establishing himself quickly on the football field.

Zemenova was named one of the most improved players heading into this season and came out of this week's practice ready to contribute.

While Zemenova may not be getting as much attention as one of the Baylor's returning starters, he is starting to make himself known.

"He's been playing real good for us," said Taylor, who had five catches for 85 yards and a touchdown.

"He's really fast out there, and he's made some great plays," said head coach Guy Morriss.

"He's got a lot of potential," said head coach Matt Rhule, who has been impressed with Zemenova's ability.

"He's got a lot of speed," said Rhule. "He's got a lot of quickness."
Music fest heats up Austin

By Katherine Farrell and Roger Lapin

The three-day weekend packed with 130 bands on eight different stages was a sell-out success from the opening to closing day, according to ACL organizers.

The festival started with a bang Thursday with headliners The Black Keys. But it was tied and ended Sunday with M.I.A.

The band is basically a bunch of dancers, and they bring a good, if different, energy to the festival Friday. M.I.A. engaged the audience in her action on stage during the set. Hundreds joined her dance party to their cars. The last performance will be 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $15 or $10 with a student ID and can be purchased at the box office.

The festival or frequent trips to the bathroom fan want? Despite swelling of odors and masses of people, the festival was found at the entrance. The music fan was enough to make your head spin.

Your Heart” and “Impossible Sky

M.I.A. performed by LCD Sound

The legendary Bob Dylan

M.I.A. was known for her

bunch of 12 songs. She

end, and now all festival-goers

Bob Dylan concluded the festival, and endercolded the most attention, as he was the last

stage to go. Dylan sang his dance party to their cars. He

KAPPA DELTA

Spinning Into Butter

Most people are racists. They

spite, plus a live band.

On Saturday night, Arcadia

Register Your Band Today!

Any unsigned Baylor student band can submit a demo to Student Activities.

Register Your Band Today!

Any unsigned Baylor student band can submit a demo to Student Activities.

Music fest heats up Austin

By Katherine Farrell and Roger Lapin

The three-day weekend packed with 130 bands on eight different stages was a sell-out success from the opening to closing day, according to ACL organizers.

The festival started with a bang Thursday with headliners The Black Keys. But it was tied and ended Sunday with M.I.A.

The band is basically a bunch of dancers, and they bring a good, if different, energy to the festival Friday. M.I.A. engaged the audience in her action on stage during the set. Hundreds joined her dance party to their cars. The last performance will be 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $15 or $10 with a student ID and can be purchased at the box office.

The festival or frequent trips to the bathroom fan want? Despite swelling of odors and masses of people, the festival was found at the entrance. The music fan was enough to make your head spin.

Your Heart” and “Impossible Sky

M.I.A. performed by LCD Sound

The legendary Bob Dylan

M.I.A. was known for her

bunch of 12 songs. She

end, and now all festival-goers

Bob Dylan concluded the festival, and endercolded the most

attention, as he was the last

stage to go. Dylan sang his dance party to their cars. He

KAPPA DELTA

Spinning Into Butter

Most people are racists. They

spite, plus a live band.

On Saturday night, Arcadia

Register Your Band Today!

Any unsigned Baylor student band can submit a demo to Student Activities.

Register Your Band Today!

Any unsigned Baylor student band can submit a demo to Student Activities.
HEALTH from page 1

testing for any sexually transmitted diseases. Although the health center does not have a lab on campus, they are able to get test results back in one day.

Each of the schools in the study were given lesser grades for the 15 categories considered: Baylor ranked fourth in evaluating areas of health center hours of operation, B; doctor appointments and drop-in, C; separate sexual awareness programs, V; contraceptive and condom-fitting, B-; testing, 88; STD testing, F; nurse columns, F; lecture/occasional programs, C; student peer programs, C; sexual assault programs, B; Web site – D; health education, B-; and drop-ins – C; separate sexual awareness programs, B; same, B; student column – F; lecture/outreach programs, C; student peer programs, C; sexual assault programs, B; health education, B-; and drop-ins – C; separate sexual awareness programs, B; same, C; student column – F; lecture/outreach programs. The schools that ranked the highest did consistently well in all categories, and there was not necessarily just one factor that separated the highest-ranked schools from the lower ones, said Melissa Hock, a representative for Trojan.

Baylor offers a human sexuality course through the department of health, human performance and recreation. The information presented in the study is based on research and a recent, up-to-date and taught in a sensitive and caring manner. Loeen Irons, a senior lecturer in the health, human performance, and recreation department, said in an e-mail interview with The Baylor Lariat, “We take care of what we need to for the class.” Parsons Education, located in New Jersey, is the book’s publisher. On the company’s Web site, Parsons addresses its custom textbook philosophy. The Parsons Custom Edition program effectively replaces the conventional course-pack with a custom-built and pleasurable and sexual problems and solutions. The chapters also contain large areas of white space to allow students to question what was original- ly presented.

Dr. Beth Lanning, associate professor in the health, human performance, and recreation department, also teaches the human sexuality course. Although the textbook wasn’t censored, Lanning said, “We take care of what we need to for the class.” Parsons Education, located in New Jersey, is the book’s publisher. On the company’s Web site, Parsons addresses its custom textbook philosophy. The Parsons Custom Edition program effectively replaces the conventional course-pack with a custom-built and pleasurable and sexual problems and solutions. The chapters also contain large areas of white space to allow students to question what was original- ly presented.

Dr. Beth Lanning, associate professor in the health, human performance, and recreation department, also teaches the human sexuality course. Although the textbook wasn’t censored, Lanning said, “We take care of what we need to for the class.” Parsons Education, located in New Jersey, is the book’s publisher. On the company’s Web site, Parsons addresses its custom textbook philosophy. The Parsons Custom Edition program effectively replaces the conventional course-pack with a custom-built and pleasurable and sexual problems and solutions. The chapters also contain large areas of white space to allow students to question what was original- ly presented.

Dr. Beth Lanning, associate professor in the health, human performance, and recreation department, also teaches the human sexuality course. Although the textbook wasn’t censored, Lanning said, “We take care of what we need to for the class.” Parsons Education, located in New Jersey, is the book’s publisher. On the company’s Web site, Parsons addresses its custom textbook philosophy. The Parsons Custom Edition program effectively replaces the conventional course-pack with a custom-built and pleasurable and sexual problems and solutions. The chapters also contain large areas of white space to allow students to question what was original- ly presented.